

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors
CLIENT RELATIONSHIP SUMMARY v. October 8, 2025

This is the Client Relationship Summary for Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors, an SEC-Registered Investment Adviser. Brokerage and Investment Advisory services and fees differ, and it is important that you understand those differences.

Free and simple tools are available to you to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

The investment advisory services we provide include portfolio management and financial planning.

In our portfolio management service, we continuously monitor your investments and provide advice. If you hire us for financial planning services only, we do not monitor your investments.

For clients who choose our portfolio management service, we take discretionary authority in your account, which allows us to buy and sell investments in your account without asking you in advance. We do not place trades on behalf of financial planning only clients.

There is a minimum account size of $1 million for new clients of our portfolio management services, for which we allow exceptions in our sole discretion, and for which a minimum fee is associated.

For more information, please review our disclosure brochure, which is available here.

Ask us: Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisor service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

We charge a percentage of assets under management for portfolio management services, which is assessed quarterly, in arrears; there is also a minimum fee associated with this service. You should be aware that the higher the value of your account, the more you will pay in fees. This means we have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account. However, you may also have an incentive to increase the assets in your account with us because the percentage we charge is reduced at certain levels of account size. If you hire us for financial planning services, we charge a one-time fixed fee; it will not include fees for implementing recommendations made. This means we have an incentive to recommend additional advisory services to you, for which additional fees are charged. When we select other advisers for you, their disclosure documents will explain the types of fees they charge for their services. You will also incur other fees, including management fees for sub-advisers, management fees for mutual funds and ETFs, custodian fees, retirement account fees, or banking fees in connection with an investment account and the securities in the account.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce the amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For more information, please review our disclosure brochure, which is available here.

Ask us: Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors
CLIENT RELATIONSHIP SUMMARY v. October 8, 2025

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors works to minimize conflicts with clients; however, simply setting a fee for our services creates a conflict in that it incentivizes us to charge you more rather than less for our services.

Ask us: How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

For more information, please review our disclosure brochure, which is available here.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our employees receive salaries for the work they perform on your behalf as well as bonuses based on firm and personal performance. Additionally, there are persons associated with the firm who receive compensation for referring clients to the firm. Those with ownership interests in the firm also receive distributions. No one at the firm – other than as described – is compensated based upon: the amount of client assets they service; the time and complexity required to meet a client's needs; the product sold (i.e., differential compensation); product sales commissions; or revenue the firm earns from the financial professional's advisory services or recommendations.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

Yes. Investor.gov/CRS has a free and simple search tool that allows you to research your financial professionals.

Ask us: As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

You can find more information about our investment advisory services here.

You can also contact us at (702) 433-7588 if you have any questions or to request a copy of the relationship summary.

Ask us: Who is my primary contact person? Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a broker-dealer? Who can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?

Summary of Changes

In previous versions of this document, the following sections read in pertinent part as follows:

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors has affiliated persons who are insurance producers, which is a conflict in that, at times, we receive additional compensation, and, at other times, they receive additional compensation for providing these other services to you, which incentivizes us to recommend and provide these other services to you.

The language was revised to read in pertinent part as follows:

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors works to minimize conflicts with clients; however, simply setting a fee for our services creates a conflict in that it incentivizes us to charge you more rather than less for our services.

Item 4 - Advisory Business

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors is an SEC registered investment adviser with its principal place of business located in Nevada. Capstone Capital began conducting business in 2002.

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors is owned by Dawson Holdings LLC. Adam Dawson is the sole managing member of Dawson Holdings, LLC.

As of December 31, 2025, Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors had $408,417,345 in discretionary assets under management.

Our firm provides continuous advice to clients regarding the investment of their funds, and we tailor our advice to clients' individual needs through personal discussions that establish their goals and objectives based on their particular circumstances, which we use to create and manage their portfolio. As appropriate, we also review and discuss clients' prior investment history, family composition, and background.

We manage clients' advisory accounts on a discretionary basis. Discretionary services allow Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors to enter trades in clients' accounts on their behalf without prior approval. Account supervision is guided by the client's stated objectives (i.e., maximum capital appreciation, growth, income, or growth and income), as well as tax considerations.

Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

Our investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Exchange-listed securities
- Corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper)
- Commercial paper
- Certificates of deposit
- Municipal securities
- Mutual fund shares
- United States governmental securities
- Exchange-traded fund shares

Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be implemented/recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity, and suitability.

Retirement Rollovers-No Obligation/Conflict of Interest:

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors is deemed to be a fiduciary to advisory clients that are employees of benefit plans or individual retirement accounts (IRAs) pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income and Securities Act ("ERISA"). As such, our firm is subject to specific duties and obligations under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code that include among other things, restrictions concerning certain forms of compensation. The way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests, so we operate under a special rule that requires us to act in your best interests and not put our interests ahead of yours. To avoid engaging in prohibited transactions, Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors may only charge fees for investment advice about products for which our firm and/or our related persons do not receive fees other than Capstone Capital Wealth Advisor's advisory fees.

While Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors may receive increased compensation as a result of a rollover recommendation, the firm will only make these recommendations in the best interest of the client taking into account such various factors as: i.) the investment options available in the plan versus the investment options available in an IRA, ii.) fees and expenses in the plan versus the fees and expenses in an IRA, iii.) the services and responsiveness of the plan's investment professionals versus those of Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors, iv.) required minimum distributions and age considerations, and v.) employer stock tax consequences, if any. No client is under any obligation to roll over plan assets to an IRA managed by Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors.

There are legacy clients of Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors who receive services with differing fees under engagements that we no longer offer. Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors offers the following services to clients:

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors provides ongoing investment management services to clients, and in so doing, we initially review clients' existing investment portfolios and other data to provide investment recommendations and advice consistent with each client's stated financial objectives. Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors takes discretionary authority in clients' accounts to invest their assets according to their stated investment objectives, risk tolerance, investment time horizon, and any restrictions that they might place on their accounts.

Clients understand that Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors will have no responsibility for decisions made by clients that are independent from our advice, and that we will not be responsible for assets not designated for our management or for the diversification of all the client's assets.

FINANCIAL PLANNING

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors provides clients financial planning services that, depending on the client's needs, may focus on, but are not limited to, the following areas: goal setting, retirement planning, business succession and exit planning, insurance analysis and risk management, charitable giving, legacy planning, tax planning, and investment planning.

Clients understand that the responsibility for financial decision are theirs alone, and that they are under no obligation to follow, either wholly or partially, any recommendations or suggestions provided by Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors.

None of the foregoing services include the practice of law or accounting services.

WRAP FEE PROGRAM

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors does not offer wrap fee programs.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

There are legacy clients of Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors who receive services with differing fees under engagements that we no longer offer. Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors charges fees to clients for its services as follows:

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FEES

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors charges its fee for investment management services as an annual fee calculated as a percentage of assets under management, charged on a quarterly basis, in arrears, according to the following fee schedule:

- 1.00% for the first $5,000,000
- 0.75% for the next $5,000,000
- 0.50% for additional assets above $10,000,000

The client's fee is calculated each quarter using the value of the assets on the last business day of the prior quarter, subject to a $2,500 minimum fee per quarter. Clients with less than $1 million under Advisor's management may pay a higher fee percentage than the schedule shown above. When our services begin or terminate on a day other than the first day of a calendar quarter, the fee for the initial or last quarter of services will be prorated based on the number of days under our management.

Clients authorize Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors to deduct our fee directly from their account held at an independent custodian as it becomes due and payable. If clients have more than one account, we make the determination as to which account the fee is taken from based on each client's best interest, or at their instruction. The account custodian(s) send clients a statement at least quarterly detailing all transactions in the client's account. Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors may also accept payment by check in our sole discretion.

FINANCIAL PLANNING FEES

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors charges its fee for financial planning services as a one-time, fixed fee ranging from $5,000 to $20,000 based on the scope of the client's planning needs and the complexity thereof collected in advance. The financial planning fee is due at the time the client signs their agreement with Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors, and it is payable by check, credit card, or debit card. Upon early termination of the engagement, Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors will prorate the refund of any unearned, prepaid fee paid for financial planning services based on the services provided prior to termination, in our sole discretion.

Limited Negotiability of Advisory Fees: Although Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors has established the fee schedule(s), we retain the discretion to negotiate alternative fees on a client-by-client basis. Client facts, circumstances and needs will be considered in determining the fee schedule. These considerations include the complexity of the client, assets to be placed under management, anticipated future additional assets; related accounts; portfolio style, account composition, reports, among other factors. The specific quarterly fee schedule will be identified in the contract between Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors and each client.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Termination of the Advisory Relationship: Any engagement agreement may be canceled at any time without penalty, by either party, for any reason. To initiate a termination, the client must notify Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors in writing. If an agreement is canceled within five business days after the effective date of the agreement a client will receive a full refund of fees. After five days, all fees owed to us for work performed before termination and all credits owed to the client for fees paid that remain unearned at time of termination become due immediately. We reserve the right to value a client's account, prorate the fee and automatically debit the fees owed to us anytime during this termination period. Fees for work completed up to the termination date will not be refunded. We agree to provide investment services and reasonable logistical support in transferring the client's account effectively ending our management of the account. If a client terminates our services and later decides to use our services again, the client will enter into a new agreement.

Mutual Fund and Exchange Traded Fund ("ETF") Fees: All fees paid to Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. A client could invest in a mutual fund or ETF directly, without our services. In this case, the client would not receive the services provided by our firm which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which type of securities are most appropriate for each client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and our fees to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

Additional Fees and Expenses: In addition to our advisory fees, clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker dealers, including, but not limited to, any transaction charges imposed by a broker dealer when an independent investment manager effects transactions for the client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors may charge up to $500.00 per hour for work not related to investment advisory services. This fee applies to clients that are not receiving our investment advisory services. This could include asset registration or re-registration or consultation on investments not held at our firm.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors does not charge any performance-based fees and does not use side-by-side management.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors provides advisory services to the following types of clients:

- Individuals (other than high net worth individuals)
- High net worth individuals
- Pension and profit-sharing plans (other than plan participants)
- Trusts, estates, or charitable organizations
- Corporations or business entities other than those listed

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors has a minimum account size of $1 million for new clients. Exceptions may be allowed in certain instances at the sole discretion of Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Rather than focusing primarily on securities selection, we attempt to identify an appropriate ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and risk tolerance. We base asset allocation decisions on academic and long-term market research, not economic conditions, or short-term market predictions. We strive to choose mutual funds or ETFs with broad market exposure, low turnover, and low management fees. We also pay close attention to how the holdings of various funds relate to each other, to improve diversification and minimize overlap.

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors' investment strategies have a long-term focus and are closely coordinated with each client's specific investment objectives, risk tolerance, investment time horizon and liquidity needs. Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors determines and builds the portfolio with the client. If a client already owns certain securities, the appropriateness, constraints, and all other factors are considered in deciding whether to sell them or retain them in the overall investment plan.

We may periodically rebalance client portfolios as markets fluctuate, to bring portfolios back to their original target allocation. Otherwise, portfolio allocations may gradually fall outside the client's risk tolerance.

Securities investments are not guaranteed, and you may lose money on your investments. We ask that you work with us to help us understand your tolerance for risk. Clients should understand that investing in any securities, including mutual funds and ETFs, involves a risk of loss of both income and principal. The following are some of the investment risks faced by investors:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market value to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic, and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar last year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e., interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

We are required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management. Our firm and our management personnel have no reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Neither our firm nor any of its management persons are registered, or have an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer or registered representative of a broker-dealer.

Neither our firm nor any of its management persons are registered, or have an application pending to register, as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, a commodity trading advisor, or an associated person of the foregoing entities.

Neither our firm nor any our related persons have arrangements that are material to its advisory or its clients with a related person who is a broker-dealer, investment company, other investment advisor, financial planning firm, commodity pool operator, commodity trading adviser or futures commission merchant, banking or thrift institution, accounting firm, law firm, insurance company or agency, pension consultant, real estate broker or dealer, or an entity that creates or packages limited partnership.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Our firm has adopted a Code of Ethics which sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct which we require of our employees, including compliance with applicable federal securities laws.

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors and our personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness, and good faith towards our clients, and have an obligation to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code of Ethics but to the general principles that guide the Code.

Our Code of Ethics includes policies and procedures for the review of quarterly securities transactions reports as well as initial and annual securities holdings reports that must be submitted by the firm's access persons.

A copy of our Code of Ethics is available to our advisory clients and prospective clients. You may request a copy by sending an email to service@capstonecap.com, or by calling us at 702-433-7588.

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors does not recommend to its clients' securities in which the firm or a related person has a material financial interest.

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors or persons associated with the firm may buy or sell the same securities that the firm recommends to clients or securities in which clients are already invested. A conflict of interest may exist in such cases because Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors can trade ahead of the client and potentially receive more favorable prices than the client will receive. To eliminate this conflict of interest, it is Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors' policy that neither the firm's access persons nor Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors shall have priority over a client's purchase or sale of securities. The firm maintains a list of all reportable securities holdings for our firm, and anyone associated with Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors that has access to advisory recommendations ("access person") and these holdings are reviewed on a regular basis by our firm's Chief Compliance Officer or their designee.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

In the event that the client requests that we recommend a broker dealer/custodian for execution and/or custodial services, the firm generally recommends that investment management accounts be maintained at Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a registered broker-dealer and member of SIPC, to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. Schwab is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with the firm. Schwab does not supervise or otherwise monitor the firm's investment management services to its clients. Schwab provides us with access to institutional trading and custody services, which typically are not available to Schwab's retail investors. Schwab's services include brokerage, custody, research and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

Factors that we consider in recommending Schwab or any other broker-dealer/custodian to clients include financial strength, reputation, execution capabilities, pricing, research, and service. Although the transaction fees paid by our clients shall comply with our duty to obtain best execution, a client may pay a fee that is higher than another qualified broker-dealer might charge for the same transaction. The firm, in good faith, believes that the transaction fees charged are reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research services received. In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of broker-dealer services, including the value of research provided, execution capability, fee rates, and responsiveness. Accordingly, although we will seek competitive rates, we may not necessarily obtain the lowest possible fee rates for client account transactions. The brokerage transaction fees charged by the designated broker-dealer/custodian are exclusive of, and in addition to, the firm's investment management fee.

Although not a material consideration when determining whether to recommend that a client utilize the services of a particular broker-dealer/custodian, the firm may receive from Schwab (or another broker-dealer/custodian) without cost (and/or at a discount) support services and/or products which assist us to better monitor and service client accounts maintained at such institutions. Included within the support services that may be obtained by the firm may be investment-related research, pricing information and market data, software and other technology that provide access to client account data, compliance and/or practice management-related publications, discounted or gratis consulting services, discounted and/or gratis attendance at conferences, meetings, and other educational and/or social events, marketing support, computer hardware and/or software and/or other products used by us in furtherance of its investment advisory business operations.

As indicated above, certain of the support services and/or products that may be received may assist the firm in managing and administering client accounts. Others do not directly provide such assistance but rather assist the firm to manage and further develop its business enterprise.

Our clients do not pay more for investment transactions effected and/or assets maintained at Schwab because of this arrangement. There is no corresponding commitment made by us to Schwab or any other any entity to invest any specific amount or percentage of client assets in any specific mutual funds, securities, or other investment products as result of the above arrangement.

The firm's Chief Compliance Officer is available to address any questions that a client or prospective client may have regarding the above arrangement and any corresponding perceived conflict of interest such arrangement may create.

The firm does not receive referrals from broker-dealers; nor engage in directed brokerage arrangements.

To the extent that the firm provides investment management services to its clients, the transactions for each client account generally will be affected independently, unless the firm decides to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. The firm may, (but is not obligated to), combine or "bunch" such orders to obtain best execution, to negotiate more favorable fee rates, or to allocate equitably among the firm's clients differences in prices and commissions or other transaction costs that might have been obtained had such orders been placed independently. Under this procedure, transactions will be averaged as to price and will be allocated among clients in proportion to the purchase and sale orders placed for each client account on any given day. We shall not receive any additional compensation or remuneration resulting from such aggregation.

Schwab provides clients with consolidated statements. Our employees are not registered representatives of Schwab and do not receive any commissions or fees from recommending these services.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

INDIVIDUAL PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT REVIEWS

While the underlying securities within Individual Portfolio Management Services accounts are continually monitored, these accounts are reviewed at least annually. Accounts are reviewed in the context of each client's stated investment objectives and guidelines. More frequent reviews may be triggered by material changes in variables such as the client's individual circumstances, or the market, political or economic environment.

Adam M. Dawson, or another person designated by him, is responsible for the review of accounts at least annually. In addition to the statements and confirmations of transactions clients receive from their custodian at least quarterly, we provide quarterly statements summarizing account performance, balances, and holdings.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Our firm may pay referral fees to independent persons or firms for introducing clients to us. Under the agreement between the firm and the referring person or firm, we will compensate them with a portion of our advisory fee for persons referred to us who become a client. We maintain this arrangement in accordance with applicable state and federal laws.

As a matter of firm practice, the advisory fees paid to us by clients referred to us under these arrangements are not increased because of the referral arrangement.

Item 15 – Custody

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors does not accept or maintain physical custody of any client cash or securities. All clients' assets are held by an independent qualified custodian. Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors will only have custody of assets to the extent it deducts its advisory fees from client accounts and in the use of Standing Letters of Authorization (SLOA's) for third-party money movement. As previously disclosed in the "Fees and Compensation" section (Item 5) of this Brochure, clients give Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors the authorization to directly deduct the firm's fee from their account held by the independent custodian. As part of this billing process, the client's custodian is advised by Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors of the amount of the fee to be deducted from the client's account. On at least a quarterly basis, the custodian is required to send to the client a statement showing all transactions within the account during the reporting period, including the deduction of Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors' fee.

Because the custodian does not calculate the amount of the fee to be deducted, it is important for clients to carefully review their custodial statements to verify the accuracy of the calculation, among other things. Clients should contact us directly if they believe there may be an error in their statement.

For SLOA's: All transfers from client custodial accounts to third party accounts will be preceded or accompanied by client written authorization. Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors will ensure that the SLOA will satisfy the requirements needed to avoid the need for the surprise annual audit for third-party money transfers and will contain the specific information needed to avoid custody when using a SLOA for a first-party money transfer.

Account Statements

Clients will receive at least quarterly account statements from the broker-dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains client's investment assets detailing the assets in the account and any transactions including fee deductions.

Performance Reports

In addition to the account statements the clients receive directly from their custodians, we also send reports directly to our clients on a quarterly basis. We urge our clients to carefully compare the information provided on these statements to ensure all account transactions, holdings and values are correct and current. If you are not receiving at least quarterly custodial account statements, please contact us at the number on the cover page of this brochure.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

Clients may hire us to provide discretionary asset management services, in which case we place trades in a client's account without contacting them prior to each trade to obtain the client's permission.

Our discretionary authority includes the ability to do the following without contacting the client:

- determine the security to buy or sell; and/or
- determine the amount of the security to buy or sell and process the order.

Clients give us discretionary authority when they sign a discretionary agreement on the new account document and in the Investment Management Agreement with our firm and may limit this authority by giving us written instructions. Clients may also change/amend such limitations by once again providing us with written instructions.

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors requires it be provided with written authority to determine which securities and the amounts of securities that are bought or sold in a client's account.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors does not vote proxies on securities or provide advice about how to vote proxies for securities held in client portfolios. Clients retain the responsibility for receiving and voting proxies for all securities maintained in their accounts. Clients should receive proxies or other similar solicitations directly from the client's selected custodian or transfer agent. Should we receive a duplicate copy, we generally do not forward it to the Client. Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors will have no power, authority, responsibility, or obligation to take any action with regard to any claim or potential claim in any bankruptcy proceeding, class action securities litigation or other litigation or proceeding relating to securities held at any time in a client account, including without limitation, to file proofs of claim or other documents related to such proceeding, or to investigate, initiate, supervise, or monitor class action or other litigation involving client assets. Further, we will not offer or provide guidance on these matters; clients should contact the issuer or their legal counsel.

Corporate Actions / Issuer Communications

For some clients, Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors is the primary recipient for issuer

communications related to corporate actions such as mergers, acquisitions, spin-offs, and stock splits. For these situations, the client may delegate responsibilities to Capstone Capital Wealth, in writing, to receive notices, provide guidance, and/or carry out the action. If no such delegation is given to Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors in writing by the client, the client remains responsible for all actions taken regarding Corporate Actions for the securities that they hold.

Item 18 - Financial Information

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors does not require or solicit pre-payment of fees more than $1,200 per client, for services to be provided six months or more in advance. Therefore, we are not required to include a financial statement.

As an advisory firm that maintains discretionary authority for client accounts or is deemed to have custody, we are also required to disclose any financial condition reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet our contractual obligations. Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors has no additional financial circumstances to report.

Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition within the past ten years.

- Park Avenue Securities; Financial Advisor; 2004-2007
- Securities Management and Research; Financial Advisor; 2001-2004

Designations:

Adam Moroni Dawson has earned the following certification and is in good standing with the granting authority:

- CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ professional

Mr. Dawson is certified for financial planning services in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. ("CFP Board"). Therefore, he may refer to himself as a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ professional or a CFP® professional, and he may use these and CFP Board's other certification marks (the "CFP Board Certification Marks"). The CFP® certification is voluntary. No federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold the CFP® certification. You may find more information about the CFP® certification at www.CFP.net. CFP® professionals have met CFP Board's high standards for education, examination, experience, and ethics.

To become a CFP® professional, an individual must fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Earn a bachelor's degree or higher from an accredited college or university and complete CFP Board-approved coursework at a college or university through a CFP Board Registered Program. The coursework covers the financial planning subject areas CFP Board has determined are necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, as well as a comprehensive financial plan development capstone course. A candidate may satisfy some of the coursework requirements through other qualifying credentials. CFP Board implemented the bachelor's degree or higher requirement in 2007 and the financial planning development capstone course requirement in March 2012. Therefore, a CFP® professional who first became certified before those dates may not have earned a bachelor's or higher degree or completed a financial planning development capstone course.
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination is designed to assess an individual's ability to integrate and apply a broad base of financial planning knowledge in the context of real-life financial planning situations.

- Experience – Complete 6,000 hours of professional experience related to the personal financial planning process, or 4,000 hours of apprenticeship experience that meets additional requirements.
- Ethics – Satisfy the Fitness Standards for Candidates for CFP® Certification and Former CFP® Professionals Seeking Reinstatement and agree to be bound by CFP Board's Code of Ethics and Standards of Conduct ("Code and Standards"), which sets forth the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements to remain certified and maintain the right to continue to use the CFP Board Certification Marks:

- Ethics – Commit to complying with CFP Board's Code and Standards. This includes a commitment to the CFP Board, as part of the certification, to act as a fiduciary, and therefore, act in the best interests of the client, at all times when providing financial advice and financial planning. CFP Board may sanction a CFP® professional who does not abide by this commitment, but CFP Board does not guarantee a CFP® professional's services. A client who seeks a similar commitment should obtain a written engagement that includes a fiduciary obligation to the client.
- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education every two years to maintain competence, demonstrate specified levels of knowledge, skills, and abilities, and keep up with developments in financial planning. Two of the hours must address the Code and Standards.

Capstone Capital LLC, dba Capstone Capital Wealth Advisors (“Capstone”, “we”, “us”, “our”) is committed to maintaining the confidentiality, integrity and security of the personal information that is entrusted to us. We maintain a secure office to ensure that your information is not placed at unreasonable risk. We employ a firewall barrier and authentication procedures in our computer environment. We require confidentiality in our agreements with unaffiliated third parties that require access to your personal information, including financial service companies, consultants, and auditors.

The categories of nonpublic information that Capstone collects from you may include personal information such as; name, date of birth, residence or citizenship, contact information (e.g., email address, physical address, telephone number), social security number or tax identification number, information to verify your identity (e.g., driver’s license number, passport), investment account details including account balances, assets and liabilities, information about your personal finances, information about your health to the extent that it is needed for the financial planning process, information about transactions between you and third parties, and information from consumer reporting agencies, e.g., credit reports. We use this information to help you meet your personal financial goals and perform our advisory services. Your personally identifiable information will be maintained by us while you are a client, and for the required period thereafter in accordance with federal and state securities laws. After that time, information may be destroyed without notice to you.

Capstone discloses limited personal information about you to non-affiliated third parties in connection with the advisory services we provide as permitted or required by law. We share a limited amount of information about you with your brokerage firm to execute securities transactions on your behalf. At times, you may opt out of our sharing of your information with these nonaffiliated third parties by notifying us at any time by mail, in person, or by email at service@capstonecap.com.

Capstone may use non-affiliate third parties for Artificial Intelligence (AI) integration. While the AI tools we incorporate will have temporary access to nonpublic information, your information will not be stored or used to train or develop any AI model by those third parties. Currently, AI is employed to assist in record keeping, meeting notes, and other related tasks. You may opt out of our use of your information as it relates to AI processes at any time by mail, in person or by email at service@capstonecap.com.

We do not sell your personal information to anyone or provide your personal information to anyone for marketing purposes.

Federal and state securities regulators may review our firm’s records and your personal records as permitted by law.

We will notify you if our privacy policy changes.
